First Presbyterian Church

Salinas, CA

You wouldn't normally expect to see vibrant church growth in a rural farming community like Salinas, California, but First Presbyterian Church Salinas, CA is bucking the odds with some pretty incredible growth in attendance the last few years. Families in the community are drawn to the church in large part by the creative and effective way that FPC uses current audio and visual technology to enhance the worship and teaching in their services.

First Presbyterian has been a loyal customer of CCI Solutions for several years. Initially CCI Solutions created cutting-edge designs for the FPC sound, video and lighting systems and CCI Solutions produced the schematics and training for Technical Director, Ryan Hunzie to install. The design also included a multi-channel personal listening system to take care of language translation and help those with hearing challenges. Over the years, he continues to upgrade all the systems with gear he purchases from CCI Solutions.

Quotes

"The reason we decided to use CCI Solutions is that we wanted a company with expertise to design our system for us, but then later when we wanted to upgrade or modify it, they would also know what gear would fit best with what we already had."

"The people at CCI Solutions are always friendly, helpful, and knowledgeable. When I call I can talk to someone personally who knows what I need and the prices are right too! They have a passion for what we are doing and they care for our ministry."
