Mariners Church (Chapel)

Irvine, CA

One of the drawbacks of today's "big box" worship spaces is that in heavily populated areas like Orange County, CA, people pass large campuses all the time without giving a second glance or realizing it's a place of ministry. Also, churches often don't then have a smaller, more beautiful space for gatherings for life's transitions. Mariner's Church, the owner of one of the most impressive contemporary worship spaces in California grew aware of this and brought on Visioneering Studios to design a "sacred space", a 260-seat lakeside venue for more traditional worship services, weddings and funerals. With an emphasis on blending ancient and future worship space design by using beautiful redwood, sandstone, natural light and other coastal design elements, a stunning facility was built that is reminiscent of churches of yesterday.

With a beautiful facility and a history of being a technologically advanced ministry, Mariner's Church turned to CCI Solutions to design and install the audio, lighting and video systems which would meet their high tech demands yet maintain the aesthetics and purpose for the space. The resulting systems can be summed up as a great blend of elegance and effectiveness. CCI Solutions was able to discretely incorporate the technological ability into the architecture, preserving the integrity of the "sacred space" while maintaining the ability to meet the technical needs presented by the church. The Chapel at Mariner's Church is the perfect blend of old and new, merging more traditional architecture with contemporary technology, reminding passers by that Mariner's Church is in fact a center for ministry and then effectively providing it once inside.
