Whether it's designing and building a quality system from the ground floor or rebuilding the ground floor, CCI Solutions has made a name for quality workmanship and unparalleled customer service.

CCI Solutions came into the Willamette Christian Center project later than optimal for a systems integrator. After planning and building for months with another contractor, Willamette felt the direction they were heading was not going to get them where they needed to be with their sound, video and lighting needs.

Many companies can deliver gear, but it takes a seasoned team, with passion and integrity to mold it into an integrated system that the church leadership and worship teams call "Phenomenal Sound." This is what CCI Solutions accomplished.

Quotes

"We couldn't be more pleased with CCI Solutions" says Chris Yarco, Director of Operations at Willamette Christian Church. "They took great care of us. They designed a system and came up with a solution that was better than what we had hoped for - and it was within our budget."

"I just can't say enough about how happy we are and how impressed we are with CCI, your design team, and the CCI team that Rick has around him. All sorts of things were going on here, going on there (CCI) yet you all made it happen for us. We could tell we just had a strong group behind everything that was going on. You guys are fantastic and the job you did for us was flawless! You guys had layers of skills and talents within your company that ultimately were of great value to our technical and ministry teams."

"CCI Solutions walked into a very difficult situation. They worked within our time frame and took the scope of the project on their shoulders and over delivered. The Willamette team supported all of the recommendations Rick Boring (CCI Consultant) made. He brought with him superior audio expertise. Rick and the CCI Solutions team also made recommendations regarding our video system."
